THE CLUB

The Portland Thorns, founded in 2012, wasted no time establishing itself as one of the most successful and trailblazing teams in the NWSL and professional women’s sports. In their inaugural 2013 season, the Thorns made an immediate impact by winning the very first NWSL Championship, sending a clear message of the organization’s intention to compete and make history. With a league-leading 3 NWSL Championships (2013, 2017, 2022), there is no denying the Thorns’ dominance.

The Thorns have set high standards with their performances, consistently finishing in the top three all but two seasons — a feat no other team in the league can claim. They’ve reached the playoffs in 11 of 12 regular seasons (2013-14, 2016-19, 2021-25), the most playoff appearances of any NWSL club. In addition to their championship successes, the Thorns claimed the 2016 and 2021 NWSL Shields, the 2020 Community Shield with the best record in the NWSL Fall Series, and the 2021 NWSL Challenge Cup. The club further solidified its status as a global powerhouse when they lifted the 2021 Women’s International Champions Cup.

Names like Christine Sinclair, Tobin Heath, Lindsey Horan, Becky Sauerbrunn, Sam Coffey and Sophia Wilson have not just been pivotal to the Thorns’ success—they are legends of both the club and the league. These iconic figures have left an incredible mark on women’s soccer, shaping the history of the Portland Thorns and the NWSL. Their remarkable skill, leadership, and impact on the game have made them global icons and some of the most recognizable names in women’s soccer history.

Off the field, the Thorns have set the standard for fan engagement in women’s sports. The club has led the NWSL in attendance for 10 seasons (2013-2021, 2025). Not only that, but Portland became the first women’s club in the world to average more than 10,000 fans per season starting in 2013, and then more than 20,000 fans per season in 2019.

As of 2024, under the new ownership of Lisa Bhathal Merae and Alex Bhathal, Portland is set to build on its rich history of success. With a legacy of 3 championships, 2 NWSL Shields, and an impressive international tournament record—including qualifying for the inaugural Concacaf W Champions Cup Finals in 2024/25 —the Thorns are positioned to continue breaking barriers and rewriting the history books in both domestic and global women’s soccer.

PROVIDENCE PARK

Providence Park — celebrating its 100th year anniversary in 2026 — is the home stadium of the Portland Thorns, located in the Goose Hollow neighborhood of Portland, Oregon.

As the the oldest soccer-specific stadium in American professional soccer, it has a rich history, dating back to 1893. Originally known as Multnomah Stadium, it has undergone multiple renovations and name changes, with its current name resulting from a partnership with Providence Health & Services in 2014.

The stadium underwent significant upgrades in 2011 to accommodate professional soccer matches and in 2019, further expansion raised the seating capacity to 25,218 to enhance the fan experience. The Thorns began playing at Providence Park in 2013, and the stadium continues to host their home matches.

The facility includes modern amenities, including premium seating, multiple video boards, and an expanded East End with three additional seating decks. Providence Park remains a soccer-centric venue, known for its consistent sell-outs, offering a fan-friendly environment in the heart of the city for both the Thorns and Timbers.

Providence Park continues to serve as an essential asset for Portland, becoming one of the most iconic grounds in the country and serving as the heart of the Portland Thorns community.
